

ABSTRACT

The present invention relates to a combination therapy for treating patients suffering from proliferative diseases or diseases associated with persistent angiogenesis. The patient is treated with a VEGF inhibitor compound; and one or more chemotherapeutic agents.